Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

1. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

2. This application currently names joint inventors. In considering patentability of the claims under 35 U.S.C. 103(a), the examiner presumes that the subject matter of the various claims was commonly owned at the time any inventions covered therein were made absent any evidence to the contrary. Applicant is advised of the obligation under 37 CFR 1.56 to point out the inventor and invention dates of each claim that was not commonly owned at the time a later invention was made in order for the examiner to consider the applicability of 35 U.S.C. 103(c) and potential 35 U.S.C. 102(e), (f) or (g) prior art under 35 U.S.C. 103(a).

3. Claims 8-14 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Downey et al. (US 5,762,891) in view of Krause et al.(US 5,820,966).

Response to Arguments

4. Applicant's arguments filed 3/8/06 have been fully considered but they are not persuasive. Examiner would like to point out that in attorney's remarks denote the deficiency of Downey 891 lacking the series of stirred tanks, which examiner already understood and thus combined with the teachings of Krause 966 to cure such deficiency. Secondly examiner denotes that there is a pH range taught of 1.25 to 2.5 which covers said claimed ranges by applicant. Also noted was the argument of no teaching of a calcium neutralizing agent in the second or third tank, once again this method would be known by the adding of limestone (a calcium based agent) as taught by Krause 966 with the series of stirred tanks, thus curing the deficiencies lacking in Downey 891. Examiner noted the lack of argument put forth against the combination of the references taught, and therefore presumes it was a valid combination.

In response to applicant's arguments against the references individually, one cannot show nonobviousness by attacking references individually where the rejections are based on combinations of references. See In re Keller, 642 F.2d 413, 208 USPQ 871 (CCPA 1981); In re Merck & Co., 800 F.2d 1091, 231 USPQ 375 (Fed. Cir. 1986).

Conclusion

5. THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the mailing date of this final action.
